Our rating ★★★★★

Looking for a new car can be a real pain in the exhaust pipe, but FindYouCars.com does the hard work for you. Simply specify criteria such as the manufacturer, maximum age and price range, along with any other requirements, and the site will search more than 5,000 UK suppliers for suitable motors. The service couldn't be simpler and it's free to use, with only registered dealers allowed to list their cars and contact you with no obligation for you to buy. There's also an online chat facility offering live help and advice.
